

When you buy China Made Caskets through us, you take advantage of our buying power even though your order may be small.

Mission: To help your small and midsized businesses regain the competitive edge by helping you to take advantage of the China Casket global supply chain. To help the small guys play big without having to be big or act big.

One Stop China Source is your total solutions for China made caskets, which helps small and midsized businesses play like the big guys by connecting you directly to manufacturers for metal caskets and wood caskets in China. Small and midsized businesses can't compete with large corporations because they don't benefit from the economies of scale that corporations do. One Stop China helps small and midsized businesses take advantage of the global metal caskets and wood caskets supply chain by helping them purchase caskets directly from factories in China at direct factory prices. One Stop China doesn't buy metal caskets and wood caskets at low prices in China and sell high to you. You buy high quality metal caskets and wood caskets at direct low prices in China and we will facilitate the purchase order, the logistics and quality control for your metal caskets, wood caskets and funeral supplies. We are your office in China. We make it possible for you to buy from Chinese metal caskets and wood caskets manufacturers without the high cost of being here to facilitate the purchase order and ensure quality. See our services section to learn more about how we add value. We specialize in helping funeral homes, distributors, and wholesaler purchase metal caskets, wood caskets and funeral supplies.

Today's economic situation and market competition is forcing more and more small- and medium-sized businesses to outsource their manufacturing and source their metal caskets and wood caskets products and materials here in China, but they are faced with a business environment that is a myriad of language, cultural and regulatory complexities.

This is where One Stop China Source can help guide you toward successful business solutions that will save you time, money and aggravation. We begin each business relationship by learning about our client's metal caskets, wood caskets and funeral products requirements and listening to their goals and concerns for a strong business relationship now and for the future.
